UNIFORM OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY.

OFFICERS.

1. AIGUILETTE.—To be braided gold or gilt wire cord $\frac{3}{16}$ inch in diameter, in two parts, front and back, each part to be neatly fastened to a triangular piece of brass metal having on the inside a bent hook. This hook when worn attaches to a small strip of brass metal which slips under the shoulder strap or through a loop when used with the shoulder knot or white coat.

The front and back parts to have a loop 30½ inches long. The back part to have a loose end with a braided portion 24 inches long; this part to measure 26 inches to the button loop and an additional 8 inches of single cord and pencil.

The front part to have a shorter loose end with a braided portion 15 inches long; this part to measure 17½ inches to the button loop and with an additional 7½ inches of single cord and pencil.

The metal piece for the shoulder strap, curved in order to conform to contour of shoulder, to be 3\% inches long and 5\% inch wide, with an opening at each end of about 3\% inch for the hook.

The metal piece for shoulder knot to be 2% inches long and $\frac{1}{2}$ inch wide, with opening for hook about $\frac{3}{8}$ inch wide with a raised portion of metal in center 1 inch long to permit the shoulder knot holder to pass through.

2. BELT, SABER.

FULL DRESS.

(a) Major General.—Belt.—To be of red Russia leather 1¾ inches wide with detachable sling. The belt to have three stripes of gold or gilt embroidery about ¼ inch wide and ⅓ inch apart and ⅓ inch from top and bottom edges.

Plate.—To be of gilt or gold metal, rectangular in shape, 2 inches wide and 3 inches long, having a bright raised rim. To have in the center a wreath of laurel in silver or silver metal partly encircling the coast of arms of the United States. All stars in the coat of arms to be of silver or silver metal and the eagle, shield, scroll, edge of clouds and rays to be of bright polish.
